

IT is said some Shriners who went to Elephant Butte in automobiles will not take another trip by a damsite.

The Evening Herald

NO Street corner strategist should fail to advise General Pershing how to handle his job.

ALBUQUERQUE, NEW MEXICO, MONDAY, JUNE 26, 1916.

THE EVENING HERALD
VOL. 7, NO. 74.

WASHINGTON TAKES STEPS TO SPEED UP MOBILIZATION ALL OVER THE COUNTRY

Many detachments of State Troops Expected to Be on Way to the Border by Tonight and More Will Start Tomorrow.

PREPARATIONS HELD UP BY SOME LACK OF EQUIPMENT

General Scott Asserts Elaborate and Smoothly Working System in Operation to Get Guardsmen to the Border Promptly.

(By Evening Herald Leased Wire) Washington, June 26.—Spending up to the mobilization of national guardsmen was reported to the war department today from nearly all states, and word was expected momentarily by the national guard division that the first contingents had started for the border.

Major General Leonard Wood, commanding the eastern department, reported that he expected several New York and Massachusetts regiments ready to start today.

More than one thousand Missouri guardsmen were reported mustered into federal service.

General Scott, chief of staff, said elaborate and smoothly working machinery was in operation to expedite transportation of the guardsmen south. Their troops and supply trains have the right of way, even to scheduling limited passenger trains.

The quartermaster general has charge of the transportation aided by railroad agents of the American Railway Association stationed constantly at the war department.

Physical examination and lack of equipment in delaying militia in some states. It is pointed out that state authorities and not the federal government are responsible for any shortage of uniforms, rifles and other materials, the regulations requiring that sufficient quantities be on hand at all times to equip militia units up to their peace strength.

15,000 OTHER EASTERN TROOPS TO START SOUTH

New York, June 26.—Besides those from New York, New Jersey and Massachusetts, about 15,000 additional troops under the command of the department of the east, have been ordered to start for the border tomorrow, it was announced at headquarters.

FIRST PENNSYLVANIA BRIGADE LEAVES TOMORROW

Harrisburg, Pa., June 25.—Upon receipt of orders from the war department Lt. Adjutant General Stewart today ordered the First brigade to prepare to leave the mobilization camp on tomorrow night. The brigades will be accompanied by one battalion of engineers, one field signal corps and one field hospital corps.

EASTERN FORCES ARE TO START SOUTH TONIGHT

New York, June 26.—Massachusetts and New Jersey troops were ordered today to entrain tonight for El Paso.

New York troops have been ordered to leave tonight for Brownsville, Texas.

NEW YORK INFANTRY ORDERED TO ENTRAIN

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 26.—The Fourteenth infantry of Brooklyn received orders today to entrain immediately. The officers said they would be able to get away this afternoon.

MOBILIZATION ABOUT DONE ON THE WESTERN SEABOARD

San Francisco, Cal., June 26.—Mobilization of the national guard of the three western seaboard states was practically completed today. All of Oregon's militiamen were awaiting orders of Camp Withycombe and the remaining four companies of the California and Washington regiments were expected to arrive today at the camps at Sacramento and American Lake respectively.

Troops of the other states of the western department were hastening their preparations for service. The Montana national guard was ready to orders today.

Washington's militia, however, was the only unit of the western department recruited up to maximum strength, according to a report of the adjutant general of the department. Idaho reported that enlistments in one regiment totalled 841 men and the Montana report said 964 men were in the eleven companies of infantry of the state. No strength reports were received from Oregon, Utah or California yesterday. California Saturday reported 2,187 enlisted men and Utah 574 men.

Denver, June 26.—Efforts were redoubled at the state rifle range camp to put Colorado national guard units into shape for border service as the result of a reminder received last night from Washington that speed in getting guardsmen into service is very desirable.

SIR ROGER CASEMENT ENTERS FORMAL PLEA OF NOT GUILTY WHEN HIS CASE IS CALLED

Indictment Follows That of Colonel Arthur Lynch Who Fought Against British in the Boer War; Exceptions Taken.

DIFFICULTY EXPERIENCED OBTAINING JURY FOR CASE

Defense Challenges Man Wearing Khaki Badge of Those Attested for the Army and Waiting to be Called Upon for Duty.

(By Evening Herald Leased Wire)

Chicago, June 26.—(11:30 a. m.)—At 10:30 o'clock this morning a clerk in the court of the lord chief justice called out "the king versus Sir Roger Casement" and the trial of the knight who is accused of having instigated the Irish rebellion was under way.

The indictment followed in legal point that returned against Colonel Arthur Lynch, who fought against the British in the Boer war. When asked if he was guilty or not guilty, Sir Roger bowed and murmured something which was inaudible. His chief counsel, Alexander Sullivan of Dublin, arose quickly and argued that the indictment set forth was "no offense known to the law," and that none of the acts specified was alleged to have taken place in any territory over which the king has any jurisdiction. After consultation the court ruled that any exceptions to the indictment in a case of such importance could be taken after the hearing without prejudice to the prisoner.

Then Sir Roger made a formal plea of not guilty, speaking in German.

Jurors from the panel were called forward. The prisoner's name was objected to by the first, who wore on his coat sleeve the khaki badge of men attested for the army and waiting to be called upon for duty.

Colonel Casement, who had been charged with being a spy, was then called forward. The prisoner's name was objected to by the second juror, who wore on his coat sleeve the khaki badge of men attested for the army and waiting to be called upon for duty.

Colonel Casement, who had been charged with being a spy, was then called forward. The prisoner's name was objected to by the third juror, who wore on his coat sleeve the khaki badge of men attested for the army and waiting to be called upon for duty.

Colonel Casement, who had been charged with being a spy, was then called forward. The prisoner's name was objected to by the fourth juror, who wore on his coat sleeve the khaki badge of men attested for the army and waiting to be called upon for duty.

Colonel Casement, who had been charged with being a spy, was then called forward. The prisoner's name was objected to by the fifth juror, who wore on his coat sleeve the khaki badge of men attested for the army and waiting to be called upon for duty.

Colonel Casement, who had been charged with being a spy, was then called forward. The prisoner's name was objected to by the sixth juror, who wore on his coat sleeve the khaki badge of men attested for the army and waiting to be called upon for duty.

Colonel Casement, who had been charged with being a spy, was then called forward. The prisoner's name was objected to by the seventh juror, who wore on his coat sleeve the khaki badge of men attested for the army and waiting to be called upon for duty.

Colonel Casement, who had been charged with being a spy, was then called forward. The prisoner's name was objected to by the eighth juror, who wore on his coat sleeve the khaki badge of men attested for the army and waiting to be called upon for duty.

Colonel Casement, who had been charged with being a spy, was then called forward. The prisoner's name was objected to by the ninth juror, who wore on his coat sleeve the khaki badge of men attested for the army and waiting to be called upon for duty.

Colonel Casement, who had been charged with being a spy, was then called forward. The prisoner's name was objected to by the tenth juror, who wore on his coat sleeve the khaki badge of men attested for the army and waiting to be called upon for duty.

Colonel Casement, who had been charged with being a spy, was then called forward. The prisoner's name was objected to by the eleventh juror, who wore on his coat sleeve the khaki badge of men attested for the army and waiting to be called upon for duty.

Colonel Casement, who had been charged with being a spy, was then called forward. The prisoner's name was objected to by the twelfth juror, who wore on his coat sleeve the khaki badge of men attested for the army and waiting to be called upon for duty.

Colonel Casement, who had been charged with being a spy, was then called forward. The prisoner's name was objected to by the thirteenth juror, who wore on his coat sleeve the khaki badge of men attested for the army and waiting to be called upon for duty.

Colonel Casement, who had been charged with being a spy, was then called forward. The prisoner's name was objected to by the fourteenth juror, who wore on his coat sleeve the khaki badge of men attested for the army and waiting to be called upon for duty.

Colonel Casement, who had been charged with being a spy, was then called forward. The prisoner's name was objected to by the fifteenth juror, who wore on his coat sleeve the khaki badge of men attested for the army and waiting to be called upon for duty.

Colonel Casement, who had been charged with being a spy, was then called forward. The prisoner's name was objected to by the sixteenth juror, who wore on his coat sleeve the khaki badge of men attested for the army and waiting to be called upon for duty.

Colonel Casement, who had been charged with being a spy, was then called forward. The prisoner's name was objected to by the seventeenth juror, who wore on his coat sleeve the khaki badge of men attested for the army and waiting to be called upon for duty.

Colonel Casement, who had been charged with being a spy, was then called forward. The prisoner's name was objected to by the eighteenth juror, who wore on his coat sleeve the khaki badge of men attested for the army and waiting to be called upon for duty.

Colonel Casement, who had been charged with being a spy, was then called forward. The prisoner's name was objected to by the nineteenth juror, who wore on his coat sleeve the khaki badge of men attested for the army and waiting to be called upon for duty.

Colonel Casement, who had been charged with being a spy, was then called forward. The prisoner's name was objected to by the twentieth juror, who wore on his coat sleeve the khaki badge of men attested for the army and waiting to be called upon for duty.

Colonel Casement, who had been charged with being a spy, was then called forward. The prisoner's name was objected to by the twenty-first juror, who wore on his coat sleeve the khaki badge of men attested for the army and waiting to be called upon for duty.

Colonel Casement, who had been charged with being a spy, was then called forward. The prisoner's name was objected to by the twenty-second juror, who wore on his coat sleeve the khaki badge of men attested for the army and waiting to be called upon for duty.

Colonel Casement, who had been charged with being a spy, was then called forward. The prisoner's name was objected to by the twenty-third juror, who wore on his coat sleeve the khaki badge of men attested for the army and waiting to be called upon for duty.

Colonel Casement, who had been charged with being a spy, was then called forward. The prisoner's name was objected to by the twenty-fourth juror, who wore on his coat sleeve the khaki badge of men attested for the army and waiting to be called upon for duty.

Colonel Casement, who had been charged with being a spy, was then called forward. The prisoner's name was objected to by the twenty-fifth juror, who wore on his coat sleeve the khaki badge of men attested for the army and waiting to be called upon for duty.

Colonel Casement, who had been charged with being a spy, was then called forward. The prisoner's name was objected to by the twenty-sixth juror, who wore on his coat sleeve the khaki badge of men attested for the army and waiting to be called upon for duty.

Colonel Casement, who had been charged with being a spy, was then called forward. The prisoner's name was objected to by the twenty-seventh juror, who wore on his coat sleeve the khaki badge of men attested for the army and waiting to be called upon for duty.

Colonel Casement, who had been charged with being a spy, was then called forward. The prisoner's name was objected to by the twenty-eighth juror, who wore on his coat sleeve the khaki badge of men attested for the army and waiting to be called upon for duty.

Colonel Casement, who had been charged with being a spy, was then called forward. The prisoner's name was objected to by the twenty-ninth juror, who wore on his coat sleeve the khaki badge of men attested for the army and waiting to be called upon for duty.

Colonel Casement, who had been charged with being a spy, was then called forward. The prisoner's name was objected to by the thirtieth juror, who wore on his coat sleeve the khaki badge of men attested for the army and waiting to be called upon for duty.

Colonel Casement, who had been charged with being a spy, was then called forward. The prisoner's name was objected to by the thirty-first juror, who wore on his coat sleeve the khaki badge of men attested for the army and waiting to be called upon for duty.

Colonel Casement, who had been charged with being a spy, was then called forward. The prisoner's name was objected to by the thirty-second juror, who wore on his coat sleeve the khaki badge of men attested for the army and waiting to be called upon for duty.

Colonel Casement, who had been charged with being a spy, was then called forward. The prisoner's name was objected to by the thirty-third juror, who wore on his coat sleeve the khaki badge of men attested for the army and waiting to be called upon for duty.

Colonel Casement, who had been charged with being a spy, was then called forward. The prisoner's name was objected to by the thirty-fourth juror, who wore on his coat sleeve the khaki badge of men attested for the army and waiting to be called upon for duty.

Colonel Casement, who had been charged with being a spy, was then called forward. The prisoner's name was objected to by the thirty-fifth juror, who wore on his coat sleeve the khaki badge of men attested for the army and waiting to be called upon for duty.

Colonel Casement, who had been charged with being a spy, was then called forward. The prisoner's name was objected to by the thirty-sixth juror, who wore on his coat sleeve the khaki badge of men attested for the army and waiting to be called upon for duty.

Colonel Casement, who had been charged with being a spy, was then called forward. The prisoner's name was objected to by the thirty-seventh juror, who wore on his coat sleeve the khaki badge of men attested for the army and waiting to be called upon for duty.

Colonel Casement, who had been charged with being a spy, was then called forward. The prisoner's name was objected to by the thirty-eighth juror, who wore on his coat sleeve the khaki badge of men attested for the army and waiting to be called upon for duty.

Colonel Casement, who had been charged with being a spy, was then called forward. The prisoner's name was objected to by the thirty-ninth juror, who wore on his coat sleeve the khaki badge of men attested for the army and waiting to be called upon for duty.

Colonel Casement, who had been charged with being a spy, was then called forward. The prisoner's name was objected to by the forty-first juror, who wore on his coat sleeve the khaki badge of men attested for the army and waiting to be called upon for duty.

Colonel Casement, who had been charged with being a spy, was then called forward. The prisoner's name was objected to by the forty-second juror, who wore on his coat sleeve the khaki badge of men attested for the army and waiting to be called upon for duty.

Colonel Casement, who had been charged with being a spy, was then called forward. The prisoner's name was objected to by the forty-third juror, who wore on his coat sleeve the khaki badge of men attested for the army and waiting to be called upon for duty.

Colonel Casement, who had been charged with being a spy, was then called forward. The prisoner's name was objected to by the forty-fourth juror, who wore on his coat sleeve the khaki badge of men attested for the army and waiting to be called upon for duty.

Colonel Casement, who had been charged with being a spy, was then called forward. The prisoner's name was objected to by the forty-fifth juror, who wore on his coat sleeve the khaki badge of men attested for the army and waiting to be called upon for duty.

Colonel Casement, who had been charged with being a spy, was then called forward. The prisoner's name was objected to by the forty-sixth juror, who wore on his coat sleeve the khaki badge of men attested for the army and waiting to be called upon for duty.

Colonel Casement, who had been charged with being a spy, was then called forward. The prisoner's name was objected to by the forty-seventh juror, who wore on his coat sleeve the khaki badge of men attested for the army and waiting to be called upon for duty.

Colonel Casement, who had been charged with being a spy, was then called forward. The prisoner's name was objected to by the forty-eighth juror, who wore on his coat sleeve the khaki badge of men attested for the army and waiting to be called upon for duty.

Colonel Casement, who had been charged with being a spy, was then called forward. The prisoner's name was objected to by the forty-ninth juror, who wore on his coat sleeve the khaki badge of men attested for the army and waiting to be called upon for duty.

Colonel Casement, who had been charged with being a spy, was then called forward. The prisoner's name was objected to by the fifty-first juror, who wore on his coat sleeve the khaki badge of men attested for the army and waiting to be called upon for duty.

Colonel Casement, who had been charged with being a spy, was then called forward. The prisoner's name was objected to by the fifty-second juror, who wore on his coat sleeve the khaki badge of men attested for the army and waiting to be called upon for duty.

Colonel Casement, who had been charged with being a spy, was then called forward. The prisoner's name was objected to by the fifty-third juror, who wore on his coat sleeve the khaki badge of men attested for the army and waiting to be called upon for duty.

Colonel Casement, who had been charged with being a spy, was then called forward. The prisoner's name was objected to by the fifty-fourth juror, who wore on his coat sleeve the khaki badge of men attested for the army and waiting to be called upon for duty.

Colonel Casement, who had been charged with being a spy, was then called forward. The prisoner's name was objected to by the fifty-fifth juror, who wore on his coat sleeve the khaki badge of men attested for the army and waiting to be called upon for duty.

Colonel Casement, who had been charged with being a spy, was then called forward. The prisoner's name was objected to by the fifty-sixth juror, who wore on his coat sleeve the khaki badge of men attested for the army and waiting to be called upon for duty.

Colonel Casement, who had been charged with being a spy, was then called forward. The prisoner's name was objected to by the fifty-seventh juror, who wore on his coat sleeve the khaki badge of men attested for the army and waiting to be called upon for duty.

Colonel Casement, who had been charged with being a spy, was then called forward. The prisoner's name was objected to by the fifty-eighth juror, who wore on his coat sleeve the khaki badge of men attested for the army and waiting to be called upon for duty.

Colonel Casement, who had been